Congressman Declares Dormitory Opens New Era for New Palitz

Several hundred persons attending ground-breaking ceremonies on the site of the proposed student dormitory and social activities building at the New Palitz State Teachers College Thursday evening heard Congressman Jay LeFevre claim the building of a new dormitory "the opening of a new era for New Palitz and the Teachers College."

The new dormitory will be the first permanent dormitory the New Palitz college has had since its founding 63 years ago. It will provide study-bedrooms and other facilities for 250 students.

Credit for obtaining state authorization for the construction of the building was given by Congressman LeFevre to Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston. "We have a great debt of gratitude to Senator Wicks. He has spearheaded the movement to give dormitories for New Palitz and other state teachers colleges. In behalf of New Palitz, I wish to pay tribute to him and his associates for making this possible," the congressman said.

Congressman LeFevre, whose home is in New Palitz, is secretary of the Board of Visitors of the college.

Senator Wicks in responding congratulated Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the teachers college, and his college staff for their efforts in obtaining the new building. He expressed his hope that the college will have another new building in the not-too-distant future.

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Klan's Imperial Wizard

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 19 (AP)—A heart attack last night killed Imperial Wizard Samuel Green, the fanatical ruler of the Ku Klux Klan.

There was no doubt, however, that the Klan would carry on though minus the energetic leadership of the thin, 59-year-old physician with the Hitler-like mustache.

A leading Ku Kluxer here said the board of directors probably would meet next week to name a successor to the raspy-voiced little man who breathed a spirit of resurgence into the "invisible empire."

Though Dr. Green had been a Klansman for 31 years, his family asked that the fact be omitted from his obituary.

At the time of his death, Dr. Green's passion for preaching "white supremacy" had made him a target for aroused newspaper editors and public officials.

They feared the Klan might ride to power again on prejudice, as it did in the 1920's, and become once more a powerful political factor in the south.

Angry and bitterly, Dr. Green declared he was being "persecuted."

Arms Bill Is Battered by House Vote

Truman Forces Lose Badly Despite Their Pleas for Anti-Red Action

To Use U. S. Ships Supplies Must Go Abroad in American Vessels

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—Battered by the House, the administration foreign arms aid program looked to the Senate today for gentler treatment.

The program was slashed and hedged in with restrictions before the House passed it last night by a vote of 238 to 122.

It marked a bad beating for President Truman's congressional forces.

Despite their entreaties, a 50 per cent cut was imposed on the $1,600,000,000 earmarked to help Western European nations resist possible Soviet aggression. Congress could decide to appropriate the rest of the funds next year.

On top of that, the House decreed that at least half of the supplies sent abroad must be carried in ships flying the American flag. The lawmakers also tightened up a prohibition against using United States troops for other than non-combatant duty in connection with the program.

But the House granted the full $21,370,000 the president wanted for aid to Greece and Turkey, and the $27,640,000 he asked for Iran, Korea and the Philippines and it beat back amendments to:

(1) Add $100,000,000 for China and other Southeastern Asia areas, (2) charge the Western European nations against the current U. S. military appropriation, (3) withhold funds from Britain as long as Ireland remains partitioned, (4) ban the use of U. S. troops for any purpose under the program, and (5) require the President to channel production into areas suffering from acute unemployment problems.

Defeat of those amendments was a shallow victory for the administration, whose House leaders had predicted confidently that they could stave off any cut in Western European funds.

Wallace Says Arms Aid Bill Bad for Economy, Security

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace said today that passage of an arms-aid program would "undermine the economy and military security of both the U. S. and Europe."

What's more, he said, the statements in support of the program by President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and the nation's military leaders "are the statements of men who are either ignorant or provoking war or are so afraid their case is weak they must incite passion to support it."

The Progressive party's 1948 candidate for President was a witness before the combined Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees of the Senate.

He reiterated, in his prepared statement, his belief that Russia does not want war, and declared that the administration program to arm this country's allies is part of a policy which has failed here. (Continued on Page 9, Col. 1)

Ship Is Unloading Hawaiian Cargo

New York, Aug. 19 (AP)—The first ship to leave strike-bound Hawaii docked in Brooklyn today and began unloading its cargo of sugar without incident.

The ship, the Steel Flyer, tied up at the American Sugar Refining Company pier at 9:25 a. m. (EST).

Immediately one hundred longshoremen, members of the A.F.L. International Longshoremen's Association, began unloading operations.

Moriarty said his union took the position that if A.F.L. seamen brought the ship to port, there was no valid reason why A.F.L. longshoremen should refuse to unload the vessel. He said the Steel Flyer was sailed by A.F.L. seamen.

Republicans Vote Against Clark as Senate Okays Him

McGrath Nomination Goes Through Without Any Dissension; Leahy May Serve

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—Confirmed by 73 to 8 votes after a hot-tempered Senate session, Attorney General Tom C. Clark delayed today taking the oath as the 88th justice to mount the Supreme Court bench.

Similarly, Senator J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island, unanimously approved by the Senate to succeed Clark in the cabinet, held up his retirement from the Senate, probably until next week.

From Rhode Island came reports that Edward L. Leahy, former director and now adviser to that state's finance department, may be named by Democratic Gov. John P. Pastore to fill the Senate seat vacated by McGrath.

McGrath will turn in his chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee at a meeting of the group next Wednesday. He has said that in assuming a cabinet post that will pay him only $15,000 a year he will cut some of his business connections. Thus far he hasn't said which ones.

The new attorney general now serves as a trustee of the Rhode Island Trust, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Providence, R. I., and as director of the Mortgage and Title Co. there.

Clark told reporters he wants to talk with McGrath and Chief Justice Fred Vinson before he decides when to take the high court oath. He said he would like to have it administered by Vinson.

As the eighth Democrat on the nine-member Supreme Court, Clark will go into office with an overwhelming Senate vote behind him. The decision was not reached without bitter criticism of the nominee, met by vigorous defense.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) took issue with Clark's record, asserting that he should have been questioned about his conduct of the Gerhart Eisler case, his reputed co-sponsor of wire tapping, the part he took in handling gangsters' paroles and the role he played in the 1946 Kansas City vote fraud cases.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.) replied tartly that "slop" was being "thrown over my friend, Tom Clark."

On the final showdown, eight Republicans voted against Clark. They included Senators Donnell and Kern of Missouri, Ferguson, Flinders of Vermont, Taft of Ohio, Vandenberg of Michigan, Watkins of Utah and Williams of Delaware.

In contrast to the wrangle over Clark, McGrath's nomination went through without a ripple.

Douglas Gives Warning

Portland, Ore., Aug. 19 (AP)—The United States cannot afford to let the Middle East go the way China went. That is the warning from Justice William O. Douglas of the U. S. Supreme Court, home from a six-week tour of Asia Minor. The whole area can be saved, though, if this country will "throw its weight behind the honest and liberal forces" there, Douglas said.

Pasotti Is Cleared

North Adams, Mass., Aug. 19 (AP)—Angelo Pasotti, 32, was cleared of a negligent driving charge today after an automobile accident which fatally injured the five-year-old son of a Taunton, N. Y., minister, Frank H. Starratt, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Howard M. Starratt, died Monday night after being struck in Clarksburg where his parents are spending the summer.

Big Locomotive Jumps Track

At 3:35 o'clock Thursday afternoon while a West Shore freight train known as the PB-1, Philadelphia-Boston freight, was pulling out of the north yards for Selkirk the locomotive (above), and two cars jumped the track near Orchard crossing blocking the west bound track. The heavy locomotive ripped out a section of track and sank in the soft roadbed to a considerable depth. No one was injured.

The cause of the accident had not been determined railroad men said today.

Traffic was not delayed, westbound traffic using a passing siding around the wreck.

The crew of engine 2728 which was hauling the train, was reported to be from Weehawken.

At the time of the accident the train was getting under way for Selkirk after picking up cars in Kingston. The train operates from Philadelphia to Boston over the New York Central carrying freight between the two terminals.

A wrecking crew from Kingston was sent to the scene and the two cars were placed on the tracks but it was necessary to rebuild track under the derailed locomotive before it could be restored to traffic.

A weather from Selkirk was sent to the scene for this job and it was reported the work probably would be completed this morning and the locomotive placed back on the tracks. Work was carried out during the night under floodlights. (Freeman Photo.)

Cerebral Palsy State Committee Is Meeting Here

Senator Wicks Welcomes Group, Promises His Continued Support of Project

The New York State Joint Legislative Committee on cerebral palsy is meeting in Kingston this week on invitation of Senator Arthur H. Wicks, one of its staunchest supporters in the war on the crippling disease.

Prominent legislators, "physicians, and educators are among those affiliated with the organization for gathering facts for Governor Dewey and the Legislature in preparation on diagnosis and treatment of the malady."

The committee's schedule officially started this morning with a trip to New York State Rehabilitation Hospital at West Haverstraw, where victims of poliomyelitis are treated.

Saturday, after a luncheon at 12:30 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel, there will be a meeting of the committee there, attended by members of the Ulster County Medical Society and the Kingston group organized to fight cerebral palsy.

Members of the state committee who checked in at the Governor Clinton Hotel yesterday in preparation for the conference were greeted by Senator Wicks, who, when he was chairman of the Senate Finance Committee directed that substantial amounts be set aside for cerebral palsy diagnosis and clinics.

Wicks, who has been elevated to Senate majority leader, said he would continue his assistance to the cerebral palsy committee.

Among those attending the local meeting are:

Assemblyman William Butler of Buffalo, chairman of the committee.

Senator and Mrs. Fred S. Holloval of Penn Yan. Senator Holloval formerly was a Kingstonian and served as principal of School No. 7.

Dr. Herman Hillbelle, Albany, State Commissioner of Health.

Assemblyman and Mrs. Richard M. Goldwater of the Bronx.

Assemblyman and Mrs. A. Schuman of Rochester.

Assemblyman and Mrs. J. E. Goddard of Rochester.

Senator and Mrs. Arthur Wachter of New York City.

Dr. L. A. Wilson, deputy commissioner of education.

F.C.C. Places Sharp Curbs On Radio Prize Programs

Woods Predicts Further Cutback Expediter Says Agency May Be Forced to Curtail Activities

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods today predicted a further new cutback in radio prize programs.

He said his agency may be forced to curtail activities in many parts of the nation—this in addition to lifting ceilings, completely in one-third of the areas now controlled by federal regulations.

Just what form additional reductions in radio controls would take, Woods could not immediately say. He declared, however, that more cutbacks of some nature are almost certain to come.

"The slash in our budget makes it necessary to lop off the housing staff from 5,600 to 3,000 persons," Woods told a reporter. "And that means we just won't have manpower to do the job—so we'll have to cut the work load."

Lottery Angle Is Hit by Ruling; Seen as Reaching Many

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today announced sharp curbs on radio prize programs.

The commission said that, effective October 1, it will invoke new rules under which it will refuse licenses or renewal of licenses to broadcasters "following a policy or practice" of advertising lotteries or "offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance."

The action, regarded as reaching many cash merchandise giveaways, programs now on the air, grows out of an investigation in progress for more than a year.

The proposed regulation was fought vigorously by most of the radio industry, on grounds that the F.C.C. lacks authority to censor program content.

The commission's reply was that it is empowered to forbid the use of the air for promoting a lottery.

The commission said in today's (Continued on Page 13, Col. 4)

Demand for Mistrial Made At Red Conspiracy Trial

New York, Aug. 19 (AP)—Another explosive entry was in the record of the Communist conspiracy trial today—and it all hinged on the letter "s" and an apostrophe.

The latter matter of punctuation—or what defense lawyers thought was the lack of it—yesterday produced a heated demand for a mistrial.

The demand was denied by Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, whose grammar—apparently misunderstood by defense lawyers—sparked the courtroom clash.

The lawyers thought the judge had called them Communists.

The controversy came after the judge upheld government objections to a long series of questions which the defense sought to ask a witness, Alan Max, managing editor of the Daily Worker.

When A. J. Isenman, one of the defense lawyers, protested the rulings, the judge said:

"It takes you lawyers about two months to realize I'm going to do exactly what I say I'm going to do. Now, you better go on to something else. That's what other lawyers have to do and that is what

Conferees Are Ready To Give O.K.

LeFevre Says He Had Conference Thursday With House Group on Committee

11 Million Marked

New York State Will Get $11,711,100 for Use When Bill Passes

House and Senate conferees on the Army Civil Functions Appropriation Bill are ready to okay a total of $11,711,100 for construction of 16 projects in New York state. Among them is an appropriation of $400,000 earmarked for deepening the east channel of the Hudson river off Kingston which has been recommended as necessary to the safety of navigation when the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge is erected.

Announcement of the agreement of the conferees was made by Chairman Cannon (D-Ma.) of the House Appropriations Committee yesterday at Washington.

Congressman Jay LeFevre of New Palitz, who has appeared before the conferees to urge the approval of the necessary funds for deepening the east channel, said today that he had conferred with the House conferees yesterday prior to leaving for his home in New Palitz where he took part in the ground breaking for a new dormitory at New Palitz State Teachers College last night. At that time he urged that money for the project be made available.

Appropriations for the rivers and harbors work in New York which have been approved by the conferees includes $400,000 for deepening the Hudson river channel; $214,500 for Great Kill harbor; $100,000 for Hudson river work; $412,000 for channel shoals and anchorage area in New York harbor.

Included also for flood control is $200,000,000 for the Almond reservoir and $30,000 for Arkipos reservoir.

Agreement by the House and Senate conferees on the $400,000 appropriation for the Hudson river channel off Kingston is one more favorable step toward the bridge spanning the Hudson river between the west shore at Kingston and the east shore at Rhinecliff.

The Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Bill, was introduced in the State Senate by Senator Arthur H. Wicks of this city, Senate majority leader, and a companion bill was offered in the Assembly by Assemblyman Ernest L. Bittford, now senator of Dutchess county. A preliminary survey was made of the site under the direction of the New York State Bridge Authority by David B. Stelmman, consulting engineer, and that data was studied.

On July 13, Inst. Governor Dewey announced that a bridge authority authorized by the 1947 Legislature recommending a $14,000,000 suspension bridge at the site had been approved generally by Bertram D. Tallamy, state public works superintendent. On August 4, James F. Loughran of Kingston, chairman of the New York State Bridge Authority, announced the Authority had directed Engineer Stelmman to proceed with the preparation for construction plans and the approach viaducts. When these plans are completed the state will be in a position to advertise for bids for the construction work.

During the public hearing before U. S. Army engineers held in this city several rivermen appeared and suggested that in order to eliminate a navigation hazard which would be created by the placing of a bridge pier near the existing east channel, that the west channel be dredged and deepened to provide a straight waterway up the river. At present the deep water channel is close to the west shore, making necessary a very sharp left turn as vessels proceed up the river. This turn is necessary to come between the "middle grounds" shoal and the east bank between which the present deep water channel runs. At the upper end of the middle grounds' ledge, make navigation difficult if the existing east channel is used.

Rivermen suggested that the east channel, which is straighter, could be made safe for navigation by removal of the rock ledges and would afford a better route and (Continued on Page 13, Col. 9)

Dispatch, Cooperation Are Needed Factors in Polio Care

Fast action and unselfish cooperation among agencies concerned are the two factors which become increasingly necessary in conducting the fight against infantile paralysis, according to an account of recent work of the Ulster County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., given today by its chairman, Mrs. William E. Powers of 192 Albany avenue.

In one case this week, the life of a 10-year-old boy stricken in Glens Falls with polio was saved when Ulster Chapter rushed one of its county respirators to that city by truck.

This was made possible by a "pool" of respirators, which was set up on paper by various local chapters cooperating with health authorities, Mrs. Powers said. Under this system, respirators from areas not badly hit may be "borrowed" by those areas needing additional ones.

By the same arrangement, if Ulster County should need a respirator while one of its own "iron lungs" is in Glens Falls this week, Ulster Chapter officials would need only to place a telephone call to one of several nearby areas where respirators are known to be available, and one would be brought here in the matter of only about an hour.

In another cooperative venture, a registry of specially trained nurses is kept at local headquarters. This registry has been used many times this summer, and at the present time Ulster Chapter is providing 24-hour private nurse duty for one patient in a local hospital who has a severe case of polio which has affected his nose and throat. This case, that of non-resident of Ulster county, is the only one in danger at this time, and all seven county residents suffering from polio were reported to be "getting along well."

Cooperation of the public is most important, and it is through the dimes and dollars contributed to the national drive last January that aid is being brought today to the stricken, Mrs. Powers said. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis provides all services for the suffering from polio as well as not one family out of 10 is able to meet the large costs of treatment and rehabilitation. Help is given by the county chapters to county residents.

Best Care for Visitors
When a polio patient is not a resident of the county, but visiting here, the local chapter provides the best care.

Quarantine Not Effective in Polio

Chicago, Aug. 19 (AP)—An outbreak of polio should not be allowed to upset community life too much, health leaders advised yesterday.

Suggestions by the Journal of the American Medical Association and the National Conference on Recommended Practices for the Control of Poliomyelitis said a drastic shift from the usual routine of children "is likely to bring more trouble than good" as far as controlling the disease is concerned.

"Public and private schools should not be closed during an outbreak of poliomyelitis nor their opening delayed except for specific reasons," the recommendations said.

Schools to which children are transported in buses from widely separated areas or boarding schools, excluding colleges and universities, should delay opening sessions if an outbreak of poliomyelitis exists in the area where the school is located. However, attendance of children at such places should be discouraged.

Places of recreation and amusement need not be closed.

The journal added that quarantine has not proved valuable in preventing spread of the disease and that "reliable evidence is lacking" on infection by insects, water, food or sewage.

Boys Reprimanded After Garage Fire

Three boys charged with starting a fire at a garage at 26 Van Deusen street early last night were reprimanded at police headquarters.

Firemen were called at 8:04 p. m. to check the blaze, but it was quenched by Edward Gaynor of 112 Pearl street before their arrival.

The boys, seven, eight and 11 years old, threw oil on the ground and ignited it, the report said. They were brought to police headquarters by Officers Raymond Wells and Francis Fagan, who were dispatched to investigate.

The garage is owned by Edwin Kittle of 26 Van Deusen street. Firemen were called at 7:47 p. m. to check a dump fire in the Summer street area. Engine No. 1 of central station responded and the blaze was quenched with a booster line.

Another call at 8:45 p. m. was for a slight fire in a sedan owned by Morris Krom of Hunter near 272 Albany avenue. It was caused by a short in the battery cable and damage was confined to the cable. Wicks Engine Co. and Wiltwyck responded.

Aged Woman Still In Critical Condition
Caroline V. O. Crosby, 86, of 209 Fair street, who was found overcome by gas fumes in her home Wednesday night, was reported still in critical condition at Kingston Hospital this afternoon.

Officers Raymond Wells and George Loughran, who entered the house after a neighbor indicated that something might be wrong there, found her unconscious on a couch. Two gas burners on a kitchen range and one in its oven had been turned on and a wall gas light was lit. Authorities were mystified over the fact that an explosion had not resulted in the gas-filled house.

Efforts of the police, firemen and members of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric emergency crew to revive the woman were without result and she was reported unconscious when admitted to the hospital.

Inspects Cannery
Nelson Hitchcock, president of the Dixie Canning Company, Athens, Ga., visited the Kingston Canning Center, 270 Flatbush avenue, at noon Thursday with a representative of Bolivia, South America. According to Hitchcock, the Bolivian representative was inspecting various canning centers in the United States with a view to buying equipment to establish similar centers in the South American country. The equipment in the local center was manufactured by the Dixie Canning Company.

Movie at Veterans
The Veterans' Housing project will be the scene tonight for the last showing in the upland district of the movie "The Duke of West Point." Joan Fontaine and Louis Hayward are the co-stars of this stirring story of cadet life. As usual the movies will start at 8:15 with some selected short subjects.

Andrew J. Murphy, III, will be in charge of the showing of the films which are sponsored by the Kingston Recreation Department for the entertainment of the residents of the various districts of the city.

Gets 60 Days in Jail
Walter C. Perkins, 35, of Sholam was arrested at his home Thursday afternoon by Patrolman Wright, New York Board of Water Supply Police, Lackawack precinct, on an assault, third degree, charge. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Willard H. Fess of Ellenville, Perkins was sentenced to 60 days in the Ulster county jail. He was arrested on complaint of his wife, police said.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 19 (AP)—Prices were a little on the downside today in the stock market but there was a general mixture of gains and losses.

The spread went a point or more in either direction with the majority of changes in small fractions. A number of leaders were unchanged.

The indecisive price movement was accompanied by quiet trading, although here and there individual issues had brief bursts of popularity.

Steels for the most part were lower as were chemicals and copper mining shares. Utilities, rails, oils and farm implements were mixed. Gold mining issues were unchanged to higher without special activity. Rubbers were up, and Radio-TV tipped higher.

The tendency of the market when prices on average are near their peak for the year and at the top of the mid-summer rally. The slight downturn today follows the Thursday market which rose until about mid-day and then turned downward, stopping just short of showing a net loss for the day.

Woods Predicts

abolish ceiling across one-third of the country, meantime, were creating a stir.

Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) said he hoped today to bring to the Senate floor a resolution to reconsider a House-Senate conference bill which okayed the cut in the housing agency's funds to $17,500,000 contrasted with $26,750,000 asked by the Budget Bureau to finance rent control operations.

Housing authorities said they have been "flooded with a constant stream" of long distance phone calls and telegrams asking clarification and protesting the proposal to drop restrictions in many parts of the country where rents are high.

Woods attempted to explain preliminary details of the new policy following a day-long session with his top lieutenants which lasted far into the night.

It is still impossible, he said, to determine what areas will be decontrolled. Such information won't be ready for at least another week.

Woods said he is sticking by his original statement that controls will not be dropped in any community of more than 100,000 population—which will rule out large cities and heavily-populated counties. Areas where big military installations are located and remain under federal regulations, Woods said, will be exempt.

About the predicted further curtailment of control activities? Woods hinted the answer may be in what he called "relaxed control" these would result from retention of ceilings in many places where local and regional rental offices would be abolished in the economy sweep.

"Such a move would permit us to keep legal controls," he said, "but it would be very difficult to police such areas."

Dismissal notices went out early this week to some 1,000 employees of the agency. Woods' statement that the personnel roster will be slashed another 1,600 started another stream of pink slips.

"We are attempting to reduce our staff where it will least jeopardize orderly rent controls," he said. "We will try to cut back where it will have the least impact on the public."

He said the move would permit us to keep legal controls, but it would be very difficult to police such areas.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

Somewhat 12 years ago this writer, in association with Kingsport Press (largest book printer in the nation—perhaps the world), ventured an ambitious program.

Believing that one of the basic requirements for the preservation of the capitalist system, as we know it in America, was a better understanding of American business, we set forth to persuade American industry to tell its story to the public.

It would be pleasant to report that, after struggling along and meeting many obstacles, we finally reached our goal and met with success.

Unfortunately, that was not the way it went. The program failed, as a matter of fact, reporting.

However, some of the experiences were interesting and educational. One day I recall had to do with one of America's largest and most prominent corporations. We presented our proposal—that a book about their business, employees, commercial transactions, history and similar facts—would be an important contribution to business literature. Further, that along with other stories of American business, their narrative and history would help to "educate" the public about big business enterprises and the part they have played in building this country to its great size and prosperity.

In other words, the books we had in mind would act as an antidote to the harmful propaganda which was then pouring out (and still is) from the press of the anti-business groups which wished (and still wish) to tear down what has been built up over a period of a century and a half.

Our discussions with this particular corporation reached an encouraging stage. The executive committee felt the plan was a good one and recommended it to the full board of directors. The board was about to authorize the publication of a thorough-going book about the big enterprise, when, as a last precaution, it presented the idea to its chief legal counsel for an opinion. This gentleman, after careful thought, advised the corporation against the project, commenting in effect as follows: "It seems more prudent to me, considering the political atmosphere now prevailing (referring to the New Deal and its antipathy to 'business'), for your company to remain out of the limelight—and not to place comment: "As a policy maker Mr. Reed is addicted to the round table, as against the pound-the-table method—to such an extent, indeed, that his diplomacy as well as his grooming have made him known as the Anthony Eden of industry. . . . He is regarded in some quarters as the best but the American business community has had to offer for the U. S. presidency since the late Wendell L. Willkie."

The Ruminator subscribes to this sentiment and is happy to pass along this idea, which he hopes may gain momentum.

Returning to the idea of business and economic education, this is a paragraph from Mr. Reed's "Credo":

"Unless and until businessmen of all countries accept their responsibility as educators, we shall be living on a uniform and shifting sands. Honest, objective economic studies, not by economists but by business leaders themselves, is the first step. The second is the dissemination of this material in simple and understandable form to educators, to government officials, to employees, their families and neighbors and to thought leaders throughout the country. . . . It is largely an individual company job that will be done only when businessmen recognize and accept their responsibility really to do something about lifting the standards of economic literacy in the communities in which they live."

At that time, Philip D. Reed was assistant to President Swope of General Electric. He aided this writer in every possible way and gave instructions to various plants that any information desired was to be supplied. Under these circumstances, it was a delight to do the book and it was finally published (under the title of "48 Million Hours").

As my acquaintance with Mr. Reed expanded, I felt about him that intangible something which might be called "business statesmanship." Unconsciously, the feeling grew that he was not long to remain as assistant to the president. About the time the book was published, both Owen D. Young, chairman, and Gerald Swope, president, retired, and Philip D. Reed was elected chairman and Charles Wilson, president of the General Electric Company.

The last 10 years have served to increase the stature and standing of Mr. Reed. Only recently he was elected president of the International Chamber of Commerce.

To bring this story down to date, in the August issue of the "United Nations World," the editors present what he titled "The Credo of Philip D. Reed and His World Trade Philosophy." In an editorial note, one reads this burst into flames.

Lawyer Prepares Slayers' Appeal

New York, Aug. 19 (AP)—A defense lawyer worked today on appeals to save Martha Beck and Raymond Fernandez from going to the electric chair for a "lonely hearts" murder.

The convicted lovers face sentence on Monday by State Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora.

Their counsel, Herbert E. Rosenberg, first will make motions. They presumably will include arguments why Justice Pecora should set aside the first degree murder convictions voted by a jury early yesterday.

Even if Rosenberg should fail in all his efforts before Pecora, the convicted pair can not be executed before an Appeals Court rules on their case.

Rosenberg said last night the 29-year-old, 200-pound Mrs. Beck had told him to "further her appeal." The lawyer said she "is determined to prove she is not guilty of murder in the first degree."

Mrs. Beck and Fernandez, 34, were convicted of the murder of Mrs. Janet Fay, 66-year-old Albany, N. Y., widow, in Valley Stream, N. Y., last January 4.

Mrs. Fay was struck on the head with a hammer and strangled with a scarf.

The prosecution charged the murder—and two murders laid to the couple in Michigan—grew out of a racket to fleece lonely women through mail romances.

SCHOOL TIME COMING

Getting the children ready for school is one of the parental tasks for the month of August. So soon the month of September turns up and here's school! It is not too late even then for the doctor, the dentist and those other good friends, the eye and ear specialists, who look the child over and say whether any patching or repairing are needed before the child tackles his big work of the year. But after school starts it is troublesome to get the appointments and fit them into the schedule. It's better to get them done right now.

It's well to look up the music teacher, too. A start on the schedule, with two or three lessons before school starts, and the whole year has a boost.

Another good idea is for parents to watch the money and have a little ahead this month for school things. Summer clothes may be in order for the first few weeks—that's according to the weatherman—but the school child must look fresh and crisp and ready for anything when he starts off. Then there are books and supplies and various small needs coming up. He should not be allowed to feel that school is a burden on the family, but rather that his parents have planned for his needs, taking them seriously. For school is the serious work of the child and it should be taken with the importance it merits.

CLEANER RAILWAYS

London, Ontario, is all steamed up—or should be say all oiled up—because it is about to have a new factory for making Diesel-electric locomotives. All of Canada which uses railways, as well as the many Americans who travel on them, will rejoice at the replacement of the old sooty steam locomotives by the new, clean, oil-electric variety.

The day of the Diesel is at hand. It's doubtless all right. Certainly on railways, clean travel is better than smoky travel—for clothes, for lungs, for general comfort. But a nostalgic feeling rises of the little old train that went to the little old town where Grandpa lived.

It took four hours to do its 80 miles. Its red plush seats and its windowsills were sooty when one entered and sootier later. At a coaling and watering stop, a man came out of a doorway and pounded on a pan with a spoon. That meant a trainman could get you a sandwich in a paper bag. It wasn't very good but it tasted wonderful to a child. At full dark the train stopped and you all piled out and there was Grandpa with the horse and buggy, and Grandma at home with supper, and bed, and in the morning the glories of the farm.

Today's child travels in an automobile, or in a clean, air-conditioned coach on a swift train with no soft coal smoke to choke the throat or mar the view. Life is wonderful. But sometimes we wonder if today's child has as much fun.

WEST POINT OF THE AIR

Louis Johnson, Secretary of Defense, seems quite right in laying before Congress plans for an Air Force Academy comparable to West Point and Annapolis. The new arm of defense has grown swiftly, and even yet many people are not aware of its increasing importance. But there is the big new child, strong, able and needing to be given his full rights in the family if he is to give full service. The most important right is proper training.

A suggestion hovering around with no apparent definite decision as yet, is that when the new college is established on a par with army and navy academies, it might be a good idea to have a student exchange among them. The first and last periods could be in the unit of the cadet's first choice for a career, with shorter periods in between at the others. In that way every future officer would know more about the other arms than he now does and would have a better understanding of their problems and their powers.

The air academy is not likely to be established by this session of the Congress, but its

THE McCULLOUGH CASE

Whenever a Communist or a fellow-traveler, or just a plain liberal gets into trouble, all sorts of committees, organizations, funds are established to protect them. Thousands of dollars are collected, to which, only too often, soft-headed capitalists, Republicans and Democrats, their wives and daughters, contribute on some mistaken notion that if enough noise is made, an injustice has been done. But when a fine American woman stands up, at great risk, to defend her country, to fight for our way of life, to denounce those who love our enemy, she is permitted to take the full brunt of the battle alone, to suffer the indignity of having her home and her savings impounded, to await the outcome of an expensive trial which may last for years. That is exactly what has happened to Mrs. Hester McCullough of Greenwich, Connecticut.

She had subscribed to the Greenwich Concert Association and, after paying her fees, discovered that Larry Adler, the harmonica player, and Paul Draper, the dancer, had been put on the program. She objected because of their affiliation with Communist-front organizations.

Mrs. McCullough wrote a letter setting forth her views. The letter was published in "The Greenwich Times." The Greenwich Community Association thereupon accepted her "resignation" which had never been proffered by her. She asked for a hearing which was not granted. However, she gave the association a list of nine Communist-front organizations, cited by the Attorney General of the United States, the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and the Tenney Report to the California legislature, with which Adler and Draper were associated.

Although Mrs. McCullough was not permitted to attend a meeting at which she might defend her position, Adler and Draper, accompanied by their lawyers and by Ward French and Frederick Schang of the Columbia Artists' Bureau were present. Adler and Draper admitted membership in three organizations, and others of a similar nature, but denied that they were Communists or ever had been; they insisted that they are loyal Americans.

It is impossible to use precise measurements in matters of this sort. All fellow-travelers deny that they are Communists and most of them are only sympathetic. Also all Communists, as is being made clear in Judge Medina's court daily, insist that they are patriotic Americans. Also many innocent persons are involved in accusations of Communist affiliation because they choose to hook up with Communist-front organizations. No one can know for sure if a person is a Communist unless he chooses to expose the relationship himself. Therefore, it is possible only to use certain yardsticks to make up one's mind about them. These yardsticks are:

1. Membership in organizations declared to be subversive by the Attorney General of the United States, a function of his office thus far upheld by the courts;

2. Persistent appearance of that person's name in organizations as a member, sponsor, speaker, petitioner, as published by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. It is usually held that six such citations remove innocence from a person's attitude;

3. Constant shifting of view and activities in such a manner as always to conform with the latest line as stipulated by the "Daily Worker," and other Communist media. Conformity to Communist orthodoxy indicates, if not membership in the party, sympathy with it.

Mrs. McCullough was guided by these yardsticks and got herself in a $100,000 libel suit. Under Connecticut law everything she owned, her bank accounts and her home could be taken away from her. Adler and Draper retained, as their lawyer, Kenneth Bradley, former Republican national committeeman, and partner of Raymond Baldwin, who has been Governor and United States Senator.

Mrs. McCullough's funds having been attached, she has difficulty raising money to fight the case. So far, her friends contributed about $3,000 which is obviously not enough.

This is an American fight. This woman said that she objected that her fees should be used to pay expenses of artists who belonged to organizations which the Attorney General designated subversive. For that she is being embarrassed financially. This is a case of free speech and all who believe that the right to protest is not limited to radicals ought to get into it.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

PERSONALITY OF THE PATIENT

One of the benefits of World Wars 1 and 2 is the importance now attached to the emotions and their effect upon the whole body. Most of us now know that an infected tooth, a sluggish gallbladder or a lazy bowel can affect our physical and mental ability and make us cowards at times.

When we were just finding out, during World War 1 and thorough learning during World War 2 is that just as physical disabilities affected us mentally and emotionally, so can mental and emotional disturbances affect every organ in the body and interfere with its proper function.

When we speak of neurology we mean the brain and nervous system and how they work and how any change in structure causes symptoms. When we speak of psychiatry we mean the odd behavior of the individual—double personality, obsessions, illusions or extensible and depressed moods. There is no change in structure in a psychiatric case but there is a change in behavior due to some condition in home, school, factory or office which arouses the emotions and causes a change in the personality of the individual.

Because of the effect of the emotions on the behavior of the individual, which actually causes a change in the action of an organ or organs, medical schools are now giving more time and attention to psychiatry.

Most physicians of middle age remember when the course in psychiatry was short, a few months at most, while the course in neurology (structure of brain and nerves) was much longer. Today the course in neurology is not shortened but the course in psychiatry is greatly lengthened.

In the final year in medicine a few lectures in all medical schools during the two final years in fact Dr. William Malinud, Boston, professor of neurology and psychiatry, Boston University School of Medicine, in the Journal of the American Medical Association states that the teaching of psychiatry should begin in the first year of the medical course. Since the medical student will meet normal and abnormal patients, he will learn of the different types of personality and how certain personalities react, not only to disease, but to the everyday responsibilities of life.

Neurosis—believing you have a physical ailment when none exists—is becoming increasingly common. Send today for Dr. Barton's informative booklet on this subject entitled "Neurosis." ## The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington—A high U. S. official just returned from a tour of the Middle East reports one outstanding impression. It is this:

That, amid the welter of assassination, intrigue and autocratic rule in this ancient cockpit, the prestige and power of the United States stands out like a gleaming beacon.

The official related this episode to prove his point: Following the attempted slaying some months ago of the Shah of Iran, he imposed non-banded martial rule. The Iranian press, particularly felt the weight of the Shah's fury. Seventeen liberal, non-Communist newspapers were suppressed and their editors thrown into jail. He also ordered them tried on charges of subversive activities.

To support these charges, articles dating back as far as 20 years were brought into court against the editors.

Despite these extreme measures, only six were convicted. U. S. ambassador in Iran is John Wiley. An able, tough-minded career man, he has been an outstanding success in his delicate and arduous post. A firm believer in democracy and freedom of the press, Wiley, privately, was shocked by the autocratic persecution of the editors. But because it was a strictly internal affair, he meticulously kept hands off until after the six editors were sentenced.

Several days later, Wiley sent each of them a small package. It consisted of one pack of American cigarettes—with Wiley's personal card.

Nothing was written on the card. Also, there was nothing secret about Wiley's action. His chauffeur delivered the packages to the prison and turned them over to the warden to give to the editors. That was all there was to it.

The Shah, of course, was immediately informed. Also, he got the point.

The following day, the editors were pardoned.

Note—Because of Wiley's penetrating and forthright reports to the State Department, the Iranian ambassador in Washington is very hostile toward him. The Iranian has repeatedly tried to undermine Wiley.

No Merger Behind-the-scenes, the widely publicized merger between Amvet and A.V.C. has gotten nowhere. Reason is strong rank-and-file opposition in both veteran organizations. At the bottom of this are two factors: Amvet membership is much more conservative than A.V.C., and a confidential memorandum sent out by A.V.C. Commander Harold A. Keats. In this document, he stresses the financial benefits that will accrue to Amvets by absorbing the 35,000 A.V.C. dues-paying members.

A.V.C. officials are aware that Amvet's headquarters is hard up and that its national officers draw $35,000 a year in salaries and expenses.

No Loss A British correspondent telephoned Sen. Kenneth Wherry, Neb., Republican floor leader, for an interview on the forthcoming international monetary conference.

"All I can say," remarked Wherry, "is that Sir Stafford Cripps is obviously coming here to promote a new loan. He wouldn't be interrupting his rest cure in Switzerland for any other reason."

The British newsman protested this view.

"Well," observed Wherry, "if he's coming over to lend us money, I'll be glad to see him."

"Can I quote you on that?" "Certainly," replied Wherry. Then, turning to a friend, he added, "I was safe in letting him come."

Suit Prices Go Down Frankfurt (AP)—Complete men's suits are being offered in Frankfurt for $6.00 and even less these days. Street peddlers are buying them and have a roaring trade selling them in the outskirts of the city. Two months ago the same suits were priced at $33.00 to $36.00. The prices fell when stores accumulated surplus quantities of summer-weight suits. The peddlers bought them up almost for nothing.

President's Statement on Vaughan Should Be Rule in All Congressional Probes

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 19.—President Truman is 100 per cent right in his request that final judgment be withheld until all the facts are in with reference to the inquiry in which General Vaughan has figured.

That ought to be the rule in every Congressional inquiry. But just now there are apparently certain influences working day and night to smother an investigation begun by the House Armed Services Committee, on the ground that nothing has been proved and that certain charges concerning Secretary of Air Symington have evaporated.

Nobody who has followed from its beginning the inquiry into the House Armed Services Co. has ever thought that the accusations concerning Mr. Symington were the main reason for the inquiry. As a matter of fact, even if somebody had talked about naming Mr. Symington as head of a merger of aircraft companies—and possibly this was discussed without the matter ever having been brought to the secretary of air—there would not have been the slightest impropriety in such a plan.

Mr. Symington is an able official and excellent business man. If, unfortunately, he ever decided to leave the public service, he would be just the man to head up any big merger of aircraft companies. It is much too upright an individual to allow such a suggestion, if indeed he ever heard of it, to influence anything he did for the government.

The real issues, however, are wholly unrelated to the flimsy references about a possible executive position in a possible merger.

The real issues revolve around the influence that a desire for government contracts can have on national defense policies—on how much lobbying was done to get the contracts and how much money was used in improper ways in an attempt to win government influence.

This is a proper subject for inquiry. It goes beyond any particular merger or service. The nation was astounded in the 30's when it was discovered that in London, Geneva attempted to wreck the disarmament conference there because it might injure steel companies interested in making armor plate for the navy.

If there are today any armor-plate companies interested in propaganda or political activity in connection with contracts for the building of ships or any of the armed services—steel, for example, used in airplanes, too—this is something to be investigated.

Such an investigation cannot be a "whitewash" nor can it be terminated by hearing only a part of the testimony. An Mr. Truman says, judgment as to whether any individual inside or outside the government did anything improper has to be suspended till all the evidence is in—but he didn't say that there was no need to take any more testimony after a few witnesses had given their ex parte opinions.

BABSON on BUSINESS

BABSON DISCUSSES YOUR EVERYDAY TAXES

GloUCESTER, Mass., Aug. 19.—A young friend of mine arrived home the other night to find his wife on the warpath. She had kept account, for the first time, of every cent she had spent that day on taxes.

First she went shopping for some of the articles used in most homes as regular necessities. She bought a small container of deodorant (Fed. tax $0.08), and one larger container (Fed. tax $1.21).

She also bought one can baby powder (Fed. tax $1.30), a bottle of baby oil (Fed. tax $2.20), and one medium sized jar of hand lotion (Fed. tax $3.09).

Everyone Pays the Same Federal Sales Taxes

Next, my friend's wife paid two bills, one for her husband's suit deposit box (Fed. tax $1.00) where a very few government bonds repose. At the telephone company where she paid her second bill, there was a Federal tax of $56 for "local service and equipment."

For her $38 on "message units," and another $33 on a nearby toll call. The bill was $7.82, $1.07 of this amount went to the government. That same morning she had the family car filled with gas.

At noon, this young housewife, sick and tired of federal and state taxes, went to a restaurant for lunch—one where she could get a "99c special." A choice of beverages was included. She decided to have tea "iced." When the bill came she found that it had been added for the ice. The bill was $1.30. She figured that having her tea iced had cost her 11c extra, 6c of that amount going straight to the state government for the "old age" tax.

Multiplication The above little story explains why this housewife came home hungry and resentful. She had turned over in that one morning $23.17 in taxes to the federal government and $3.09 to the state—a total of $26.26. She had no money what seemed to her, or to any thinking person, a single luxury. Small potatoes? Multiply that amount by all other housewives in the United States out on a normal morning's activities and you have where the money for social experiments is coming from—out of your own pocket.

Firemen's Program For Children Is Canceled by Polio

The field day for children of this city, sponsored annually by the Uniformed Firemen's Association, Local 461, has been canceled this year.

At a special meeting held this week, the firemen voted to sponsor some event for children next fall or winter in place of the summer track meet, which was to have been held this month.

Reason for the cancellation, according to U.F.A. officials, is that the members felt it unfair to hold the event at a time when parents are being advised by health authorities to keep their children away from gatherings due to the prevalence of polio in this area. It was also felt that since there are very few events for children of a city-wide basis in the winter, the boys and girls would approve of the substitution of some other event at that time.

No definite decision as to the nature of the fall or winter event was made, but among the possibilities mentioned were a Christmas party for all children of the city or an indoor track meet to be held at the municipal auditorium. Francis Argulewicz, association president, was authorized to appoint a committee on arrangements for this event.

The U.F.A.-sponsored field day last year attracted between 600 and 700 youngsters. In addition to the awards given winners of the events, each youngster was given a specially-inscribed T-shirt and refreshments were served.

Babson on . . .
National Association of Tax Administrators says that in the past 30 years annual taxes in the U.S.A. have risen 1,500 per cent. Someone has estimated that when a baby is born in the United States he can count on spending several thousand dollars in gasoline taxes alone before he dies. "There are 200 separate taxes in the price of gasoline levied at different stages of processing from the oil well to the gas pump," according to the American Petroleum Institute.

Where Is It Going?
You can figure that you are working for at least three months of every year entirely for the government, not keeping a cent from your labors during that period for living expenses. These taxes are enough to support one government employee for about every seven families in the U. S. In the last 20 years the population of the United States has increased 21 per cent. The federal employee increase has been 250 per cent. It is your money which is being spent on all "security" experiments. If you save a dollar for the future you have that dollar, plus the interest it earns ready and waiting for you when you need it. But when you hand over a dollar to the government in taxes, you have very little to show for it.

A national health program, for instance, would call for almost as many more government employees to operate it, and keep the records as it would require doctors. Your doctors bills might be less; but your taxes would be more. All these "social programs" mean higher taxes for you, both on income directly and also on what you buy. It is well said that "government has nothing except what the working taxpayer gives it." You are the working taxpayer. What is your desire, to spend your own money as you see fit or to turn nearly one-third of it over, each year, to the government to spend? Upon your choice depends the freedom of the individual in this country.

West Point to Hold Scout Day Sept. 24

West Point, Aug. 19—The public information office at the U. S. Military Academy announced today that Saturday, Sept. 24, has been designated as Boy Scout Day at West Point.

The scouts will arrive at West Point in the morning and be escorted on a tour of the academy by members of the corps of cadets. The cadets will show the scouts Cullum Hall, the library, the West Point museum, the cadet model room, Washington Hall (the cadet mess hall), the cadet chapel, the gymnasium, trophy point and other points of interest.

After the tour, the scouts will have lunch on the North Athletic Field and view a display of modern weapons. A high point of the day will be a dress parade by the corps of cadets with the climax being the Army-Davidson football game at Michie Stadium.

Last year, some 17,500 scouts attended Boy Scout Day at West Point. That visit marked the re-institution of Boy Scout Day after the war. The scouts showed such enthusiasm over the visit that the occasion has been made an annual affair. As a climax to last year's Boy Scout Day, 12,500 of the visiting scouts saw Army beat Virginia Polytechnic Institute 49-7.

Back Home in Jail!

Flensburg, Germany (AP)—One man crossed the Danish-German border illegally for the 25th time and had to face a Flensburg court for the tenth time. The court sentenced Burde to five months in jail. When he entered his cell, he found that fellow-prisoners had decorated it with garlands.

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE

Before we do—"World War II" that is—the cushiest peacetime assignment the army had to offer a West Point graduate was at one of its cavalry posts. Because, where there's cavalry there are bound to be horses, and where there are horses there is frequently polo—the sport of kings and second lieutenants.

Which brings me to the story of Lieutenant Larry Baldwin's revenge and, if you'll pardon a frightful pun, his mallets aforethought.

In 1938, while playing No. 2 on his post's polo team, Larry's right eye got in the way of an opponent's mallet, and when he came to in the hospital an hour later, he was minus the eye. The following week, in accordance with standard operating procedure, the army presented him with a handsome glass substitute and reassigned him to command a battery of mimeographs in the post's supply center.

When Larry realized he would never again chase a small white ball around a big green field, he became well-nigh inconsolable, he began to console himself with a bottle.

But, as luck would have it, the colonel in charge of the post was a teetotaler, not the live-and-let-live type, but the other kind—"everybody on the wagon—pronto." And as for the colonel's lady, well—she was every bit as tight-minded as he.

One morning, when Larry reported for duty after a night of lying, the colonel fixed him with a ball-bouncing eye. "Baldwin," he said in the tone of voice one usually reserves for a tarantula crawling up one's leg. "You are—drunk!"

Larry, who quote prided himself on being able to drink like a gentleman unquote, couldn't imagine how the colonel had diagnosed his condition until he groined his way to the men's room and examined himself in the mirror. And there was the answer—his good eye looked as if it had been splattered with ketchup, while the other was as clear as the crystal it was made of.

Well, Baldwin was what you might call a resourceful man, and so he went to a glass-eye artist and ordered two more eyes—one mildly bloodshot, the other that color of borscht. And after that, on mornings-after, he saw to it that his false eye matched the true one, shifting in easy stages from very bloodshot to medium bloodshot to clear.

From then on, his connoisseur caused no comment, and the ex-polo player might have shuttled for years between martinis and mimeographs if his hankering for horseshoes hadn't led him to apply for an assignment which would get him back in the saddle.

"Request denied," said the Colonel. "Furthermore, when I order a man to do a particular job, I expect him to stick to it. Remember, Lieutenant, we are all in the service of the United States of America."

Naturally, this kind of talk didn't sit well with Larry, and determined to get hunk, he went back to the orb specialist and ordered a new eye.

PORT EWEN

Dear Client:

This being the season of ragweed, hay fever and clambakes, may we solicit your kind indulgence before rushing off to get your kichenex back from the laundry, or before those succulent bivalves flaunt their torsos in front of your infallible appetite. To those who may be allergic to the wheeze and sneeze sport, our area, while not debt clear, is pollen free. As for clams and we hope you won't misconstrue the intent of our statement — we serve everything and everybody, including crabs. Our dinner menu, 7 days a week, is ample and reasonable. The entertainment with the LaFALCE BROTHERS ORCHESTRA every Saturday night makes even the proprietors fond of music. If you get an idol hour, why not stop in and see, taste, and hear for yourself, because we know darn well you don't believe us. After all, why should you? You have to pay the bill!

Yours for shorter sneezes, more kichenex, and clams with spiked shoes.

Signed,

THE PROPRIETOR

America's Card Authority

Written for NEA Service

I received a letter from Frank Bussell of Montreal, Quebec, part of which I want to repeat to you.

He said on Monday, June 27, the Canadian citizens very solidly backed the Liberal party by electing to office 192 Liberal M.P.'s from a total of 262 seats.

However, he continued, the setback suffered by the Conservatives was nothing to the setback he received on today's hand.

I like a fellow who will give you a hand in which he got the worst of it.

The bidding looks something like a jigsaw puzzle. First of all, I think North should pass with so weak a hand. Just why South bid two spades is hard to understand, unless he wanted to stop a spade lead. North's bid of three diamonds only confused South. When South bid three hearts I do not know why North did not pass. I suppose he is from the school who thinks that when partner reverses, he has a powerful hand. Anyway, that was the bidding—now for the play.

East cashed five diamond tricks on which West played the ten, eight and three of diamonds, and discarded the deuce and nine of hearts. East shifted to a spade. Mr. Bussell said at this point, "I would not have minded it so much if West had laid down his seven spade tricks quickly, but he cashed only three of them. He thought for a while, cashed his ace of clubs, and then cashed the rest of the spade tricks. Yes, they took all 13 tricks, and I with my 1700 points minus, surely felt worse than the Conservative party."

Temperatures of 150 to 180 degrees have been taken in the sun along the coast of the Persian Gulf in southern Iran, but these are unofficial records since official records must be taken in sheltered and ventilated locations.

Social Talents Zoom Popularity

Model-vacationer makes friends by displaying talents as sketched and golfer. Her cover-up sun dress is wise choice for mixed game of table tennis.

By ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer

"Two weeks with pay" amounts to more than just a vacation to some girls. It's a prime opportunity to meet young men in a leisurely, gay atmosphere and perhaps turn a casual romance into marriage.

From a vacation-wise woman, who has seen this happen at her Chestertown, N. Y., resort, and also observed the poor strategy used there which has defeated girls' aims, come some pertinent pointers on this subject.

"Men frighten easily," says Beth Gardner of Blythwood, Adirondacks' resort which this ex-Powers model operates. "Girls who arrive overdressed, too bejeweled or excessively made-up and coiffured and who survey the scene with a husband-hunting gleam in their eyes invariably scare off the eligible males."

After studying the reactions of her masculine guests, Miss Gardner is convinced that they are as quickly frightened off by the girl who is under-dressed, in too-short shorts, too-bare sun tops, too much midriff exposure.

"Daring duds attract men of course," says Miss Gardner, "but they are not usually the kind of men who make prospective husbands."

Miss Gardner's sage advice to the girl vacationer is to save her bare-topped sun dress for private sun baths and to emerge from those modestly covered with a matching stole or bolero.

None of this means, of course, that a girl must be backward and retiring and wait to be chosen. Stress your talents, Miss Gardner advises. If you know how to sketch or make clever caricatures, there is an obvious opening for getting and holding the complete attention of the man who appeals to your "artistic" instincts.

If a gal knows how to play an instrument, sing, dance, or entertain, just a little coaxing should be enough to get her up on the floor. Her talent will attract plenty of masculine attention.

At a resort where the recreations are the usual swimming, boating, tennis, golf, shuffleboard, handball, horseshoe, riding, hiking, etc., girls who are athletically inclined have a natural advantage.

"If you're definitely not the athletic-type," Miss Gardner warns "use your common sense. A tennis champ will be bored stiff running after your tennis balls. Practice on a dud in your own tennis class for awhile. Enlist the aid of a pro to teach you golf. Don't tap the serious golfer to show you how to hold the club. Duds, get no sympathy."

"On the other hand, men like to tell girls how to improve their swimming stroke. Even an unathletic girl," Miss Gardner observes "can be a passenger on a canoe or rowboat expedition. A good rider won't object to a novice equestrienne on a horseback twosome."

Every beautiful girl isn't married in June. Some wait until August. So many August brides-to-be have asked for wedding reception and buffet luncheon suggestions that we did something about it. We asked Claudius C. Phillips, executive catering manager of New York Waldorf Astoria, to tell us what he would serve for August weddings.

Here are his suggestions exclusive to his column—oh, yes, very elaborate and very de luxe. But though your wedding plans may be far less elaborate, you'll find some wonderful ideas to use in M. Phillippe's regal menus.

Wedding Reception and Buffet Luncheon

Hearts of celery and ripe and green olives on ice, salted almonds and nuts in silver shells.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

CARDS LEFT WITH GIFTS

This is an unsolvable controversy: "Some of my friends think it is in poor taste to display cards with wedding gifts. They think it just encourages people going around looking to see who gave what, when actually their chief interest should be in the gifts. Some even think that people who send very little must feel embarrassed to have the fact emphasized. It is natural, of course, for the bride to tell her parents and the bridegroom's parents gave, and possibly, rich Aunt Agatha, but I'm referring to the run-of-the-mill gifts."

While not considered improper to show them, especially if there are unusually many, it is in rather better taste not to.

Anniversary Invitation

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister and I would like to invite our friends and my parents' friends to come to our wedding anniversary day. Our house is tiny, and we can't invite everyone between the usual 4 to 6 hours for tea. Could we invite some from 2 to 4 and others from 4 to 6? Could any feel hurt and think they were invited at the "wrong" time?

Answer: You cannot have two hours and divide your guests. If the house is very small, you have to reduce your list to your parents' intimate friends.

Payment for Hospitality

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm going to spend my vacation (a week of it) in a little town in which my fiancée works. I'm staying at the house of some of his new friends, a young married couple with a small child who are strangers to me. I know from him that they haven't much money and I wondered how I could pay my way. I don't want to hurt their feelings. Mrs. B. has written me a note inviting me.

Answer: One way would be for you and your fiancée to take them out for meals while you are there. The note of invitation from Mrs. B. certainly put your stay with them on a personal basis and it would be unthinkable to consider it as anything else. You might buy the child a toy—especially if you find out something he wants.

Many questions are asked about wearing gloves, hats, shoes and jewelry. Mrs. Post gives some suggestions on being well-dressed in her letter, E-35.

Carol and Lupescu Wed in Portugal In Strict Privacy

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 18 (AP)—Former King Carol of Romania and Mme. Elena Lupescu were married in a religious ceremony last night at the ex-monarch's Estoril residence.

The Rev. Hartman Ivinovitch, head of the Romanian (Greek Orthodox) Church in Paris, came here to officiate at the ceremony.

The ceremony took place in strict privacy in Carol's villa. Only the former monarch's chamberlain, Ernest Urdarianu, other members of the royal household, and a few close friends were present.

Mme. Lupescu wore a gray gown for the ceremony. After the service the participants sat down to a wedding supper.

Urdarianu said it was impossible to date the ceremony before because no Romanian church representative was in Portugal. He said special arrangements had been made to bring the Rev. Ivinovitch from Paris.

"This scotches once and for all ridiculous rumors recently circulated about the king being on bad terms with his wife," said the marshal. He added that henceforth Mme. Lupescu's title will be Princess Elena.

Carol and Elena whose romance flourished more than two decades despite family objections and political upheavals were married in Rio de Janeiro in an "extrajudicial" civil ceremony in July, 1947, when Elena was believed at the point of death.

Confirmation of the marriage—Carol's third—was complicated by the fact that both he and Mme. Lupescu had been divorced.

Brazilian law does not permit divorce, but legal divorces in other countries can be legalized there. Two months after the ceremony, the marriage was declared legal by the Rio de Janeiro marriage court after long deliberation on documents submitted by the couple.

Carol's divorce from Princess Helen in 1928.

Elena's influence during Carol's reign as king of Romania had been so great she had been known as the "uncrowned queen." Carol preferred her to his royal consort, twice she accompanied him into exile.

As crown prince he renounced his right to the throne and went into exile. He and Mme. Lupescu were together in Italy for almost two years.

When he returned to Romania and was crowned king, Elena followed him into exile. She followed him into exile when he gave up the throne rather than accept German domination during World War 2.

It was about 1924 at a gala military ball in Romania that Carol met Elena. The story goes that they fell in love at once. She had been married to a Romanian army officer. Carol was married to Helen at the time.

Soon afterwards Elena took up residence near Carol's palace. His mother, Queen Marie, demanded that he give up Lupescu. Carol refused.

Some time later his father King Ferdinand said the real reason Carol had renounced his throne was his "repeated moral delinquencies" and revealed that he himself had asked his son to take that action.

Wallace Says Arms

ever it has been tried—in Greece, in Turkey and in China.

"The policy of the arms program was given a full run in China," the one-time vice president said. "At last long the administration has admitted the complete failure of that policy in China. It was forced to by events."

The waste, the utter insanity of that policy in trying to contain an idea with guns, of supporting reaction to suppress social reform, stands clear for all the world to see," Wallace added.

The arms program proposes to repeat in Europe our tragic mistake in China. It is aimed at the same kind of "internal" and "external" aggression. It places the same emphasis on arms to the exclusion of the needs of the people for economic recovery and social reform.

"It supports any government, no matter how reactionary, or corrupt, as in Greece, or how undemocratic as in Portugal or Turkey, that will join the new holy war."

Wallace said that "if the administration's foreign policy is military insanity it is economic suicide," because it fails to take into account the "developing world economic crisis."

As a substitute for the rearmament of western Europe, Wallace revived his proposal for creation of a united nations agency which would mean "converting" the ECA (European recovery) program into a world program.

He said such a program would be less expensive than an arms plan, would lead to the economic betterment of peoples everywhere and would be a step toward world peace.

Lightning Sets Fires

McCall, Idaho, Aug. 19 (AP)—Lightning struck the under-dry Payette forest yesterday setting 23 new fires. Fire Dispatcher Walt Hankins said other fires probably will be reported today in the wake of the storm. Two fires on the south fork of the Salmon river about 40 miles from McCall could develop into major fires, Hankins added.

Hudson, Aug. 19—The 26th annual reunion of the 51st Pioneer Infantry Association is scheduled to be held in the state armory here on Sunday, Sept. 11, and Henry L. Klein, general chairman promises that it will be one of the most enjoyable in the history of the organization.

Companies of the 51st, formerly the old 10th New York National Guard regiment, left for service in World War 1 from Albany, Hudson, Catskill, Kingston, Newburgh, Yonkers, Flushing, White Plains and Hempstead.

It is anticipated that Pioneers from all of these communities will be at the reunion to revive and talk about the memories of their days as buddies in the regiment. The program is scheduled to start Saturday night with a dance in the armory. Good music is promised by the committee. Refreshments will be served.

Sunday morning, breakfast will be served in the armory kitchen between 8 and 10 o'clock. The annual meeting will take place in the armory drill hall at 11 o'clock. At 2 p. m. a clambake will be held in Kipp's Grove just outside the city.

Driving Plans Gain Favor With Youngsters

Washington, Aug. 19 — More than 750,000 young drivers throughout the country have asked for the good-driving agreements to be signed by themselves and their respective dads. It was announced today by the National Automobile Dealers Association.

In these agreements dad agrees to let the youngsters use the family car from time to time provided they promise to drive according to eight specified good-driving practices.

Each youthful driver who signs the agreement is given a membership card in the national good-driving club.

"The movement is sponsored by the Automobile Manufacturers Association and their dealers, the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee, and the National Committee for Traffic Safety, in addition to the 35,000 organized new car dealers."

Hope was expressed in today's announcement that, with so many young drivers now signed up in this movement, there might be fewer accidents than usual over the coming Labor Day holiday.

"Death has learned to love American holidays, but possibly the good driving of all these youngsters will make the approaching holiday unique in a greatly curtailed death list," the announcement said.

License Revoked

In a hearing Thursday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Percy Barley of Accord, George Hoyt, 46, of Accord was fined $25 on a reckless driving charge. Payment of fine was suspended and Hoyt's driver's license revoked.

The sheriff's department reported Hoyt was driver of an automobile which struck and slightly injured Mrs. Esther Yutkowsky of the Bronx Monday night at the junction of the Accord-Kyser road and Route 209, according to a state police report.

Runaway Truck Hits 100 M.P.H. Speed

Laramie, Wyo., Aug. 19 (AP)—Rocketing out of a mountain canyon at 100 miles an hour, a runaway semi-trailer truck laid waste to Laramie's main street yesterday.

The two-laden truck injured five persons, damaged nine automobiles and wrecked two buildings. Damage was estimated at $30,000.

Driver Ernest Kirk, 26, of Beatrice, Neb., said the brakes failed on the Telephone Canyon Road. It drops 2,000 feet in three miles. He said the truck was going more than 100 miles an hour when it shot out of the canyon, five miles east of here.

Colonials Forfeit First Game in Bridgeport, Drop Second, 9 to 5

Team Arrives Late for Twinbill; Perlmutter Introduced as Pitcher

Since everything else has happened to our Colonials this season, it came as no great surprise last night when they achieved the ignominious distinction of being the first Colonial League team to forfeit a game during the 1949 season.

When the Colonials arrived at 7:15 p. m., nearly one hour late, for the first game of a scheduled twin-bill doubleheader, the Bridgeport Bees, who are battling for second place, quickly took the 9-0 forfeit.

Then they went on to defeat the Colonials in the nightcap, 9 to 5. In this contest Danny Perlmutter was introduced as a pitcher and lasted 4 1/3 innings during which he gave up 11 hits. He escaped the loss, however, as Ray Riescher was on the mound when the Bees scored four times to ice the contest in the seventh.

The Bridgeport club did not take the forfeit until club officials and the umpires (our dear friends, Codgin and Jordan) had contacted League President John Seatz by telephone.

Third Time Late
It was the third time this season that the Colonials had reported late for a ball game, twice at Bridgeport.

(According to the Bridgeport Post, the Colonials' excuse for not showing up on time was that President (still) Ted Laviano had not notified Manager Emil Gail that a doubleheader was scheduled. Laviano was reported in Washington, D. C., "on important business" with Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators. The Colonials arrived at 7:15 p. m.)

Graham Saves Game
In the so-called "second game," Hamilton "Red" Graham came on for the save after the locals had assaulted Harry Fick for five runs in the first five innings. The redheaded shutout ball in the first four rounds to earn his eighth win of the season.

Tom Mahan, Colonial first sacker, slammed a three-run homer in the second inning and pounded a double. George Handy clouted his 22nd homer for the Bees in the fifth.

The Colonials are in Waterbury for a double-header tonight and then return to municipal stadium Saturday for a single engagement with the Poughkeepsie Chiefs.

Feature of the Saturday program is a series of field events that will be put on at 9 p. m. There will be home run hitting contest, wheelbarrow races, accuracy throwing contest, and distance hitting.

Frank's Defeat Stauble's, 6 to 1 On Jackie Watzka's Three-Hitter

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

By The Associated Press

By JOE REICHLER

Are the New York Yankees a greater club than most realize, or are they just plain lucky?

There are two schools of thought on that subject. Undoubtedly, the Yankees are getting more from their share of breaks this season. But their backers insist that's just what makes them a great club.

The Yankees take advantage of every lapse by the opposition, they claim, and often make their own breaks.

The Yanks' critics argue they don't take an extraordinary team to score when your opponent fumbles all over the place, presents you with free passes, his batsmen with pitched balls and allows you to take extra bases because of stupidity in the field.

Maybe It's Pressure
Why do these lapses occur more against the Yankees than against any other club? That might be the secret of the Yankees' success. It is conceivable that the Yankees, with their constant drive and unwillingness to concede, pressure their opponents into mistakes and mental lapses.

The Yankees have been winning despite 53 injuries, several to key men. They've been winning the close ones, too. In one recent week, they won four 3-2 games. They've engaged in 36 one-run decisions, and won 23 of them. No other club can boast such a mark.

Maps Is Hero
Look what happened yesterday. They spotted the Washington Senators a 4-0 lead in the fourth inning, but came on to win 5-4. As in a majority of their one-run victories, an error by the opposition led to the Yankees' winning margin.

The Yankees already had tallied twice in the last half of the fourth on Tommy Henrich's home run, a fluke double by Johnny Lunde on a pop that fell in back of first and Gerry Coleman's single. They had two men on base and two out. Cliff Mages hit an easy roller to second, but Al Rozar bobbled it, and was slow to pick it up. Two Yankees crossed the plate to deadlock the score at 4-4.

A double by Phil Rizzuto and Mages' single off Mickey Harris in the sixth, produced the winning run.

The victory increased the Yankees' first place lead over the idle Boston Red Sox to four full games.

In the National, the Brooklyn Dodgers continued to flounder around. They dropped their third in a row to Philadelphia's Phils, 9-5, and fell a full game behind the pep-setting St. Louis Cardinals. The Redbirds and Cincinnati Reds enjoyed an off day.

The third place Cleveland Indians remained in the American League fight, walloping the St. Louis Browns, 14-4, in the only night game in the majors. Bob Lemon had little trouble racking up his 15th triumph, while Larry Doby and Mickey Vernon each piled three-run homers for the Tribe.

The victory left the Indians five games behind the Yankees and one in back of the Red Sox.

Giants Routed
Home runs by Bob Elliott, Jeff Heath, Elbie Fletcher and Jim Russell helped the Boston Braves defeat the New York Giants, 10-6. Rookie Jim Walsh, making his second start, for Pittsburgh, pitched the Pirates to an off day, 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Ralph Kiner drove in both Pittsburgh runs with a single and triple against Doyle Lade. The Detroit Tigers blanked the Chicago White Sox, 2-0, to snap a 19-inning scoring drought. At the same time, when the Bengals tallied in the first, it marked the first run against White Sox pitching in 28 consecutive innings. Boston and Philadelphia, in the American League, were idle, as were the Cardinals and Reds in the National.

Bob Watzka, Gorsline Are Batting Stars

Frank's Sport Shop closed out its 1949 City Baseball League season on a note of triumph behind the strong right arm of Jackie Watzka yesterday at the Athletic Field.

The fireballing righty who has finished the season in a blaze of superlatives pitched off Stauble's Bakery, 6 to 1.

It was Frank's sixth win in 14 starts and moved them into fifth place, a game ahead of Stauble's.

Only Three Hits
Watzka permitted only three hits, issued one pass and struck out five to gain the decision over Jimmy Sposito, who was touched up for a dozen safeties, including a trio by Bob Watzka.

Stauble's got off to a quick 1-0 lead in the first inning when Felipe beat out a bunt, Carlino sacrificed and Decker singled to center scoring Felipe. Thereafter Watzka shut the door in their faces.

The winners scored a pair of runs in each of the second, third and fourth innings. Watzka was the leading pitcher with three hits, while Mauro, Gorsline and Joe Fautz each had a pair. Gorsline accounted for three R.B.I.s with a double and single, while Fautz knocked in two.

Aussies Upset Mulloy-Talbert in Doubles Play

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 19 (AP)—

America's Davis Cup hopes suffered a shocking letdown yesterday when a pick-up team of Australians whaled Gardner Mulloy and Bill Talbert in the quarter finals of the National Doubles tennis championship.

The young Australians, Frank Sedgman and George Worthington, blasted the legs from under America's defending and four-times national champions, 6-1, 7-6, 7-5, 9-7.

The inability of the veteran Mulloy to get his big first service in consistently was the key to the upset of the American champions. The Australians played exceptionally well, especially at the net.

The Australian's surprising victory left only two American teams in the field. They play each other today.

The second seeded American team of Frank Parker of Hollywood, Calif., and Pancho Gonzalez of Los Angeles, go against the sixth-seeded American combination of Jim Brink of Seattle, Wash., and Herb Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in one of today's quarter finals.

Still No. 1 Team

In the other, the Australian Davis Cup pairing of Jack Bromwich and Bill Sidwell meet the fifth-seeded South Africans Eric Sturgess and Eustace Fanning.

The unexpected upset of Mulloy and Talbert augured no good for America's bid to retain the Davis Cup against Australia's challenge at Forest Hills next week-end.

Mulloy and Talbert are scheduled to play the cup doubles against Bromwich, matched with either Sidwell or Sedgman.

Abieck Man, non-playing Davis Cup captain, said yesterday's defeat of Mulloy and Talbert won't change the team.

Mulloy and Talbert will still be our doubles team," he said. "This defeat may be a blessing in disguise. Mulloy, in particular, has been badly over-enthusiastic in recent weeks."

The 1927 New York Yankees won their first six games and were the leaders in the standings the entire season.

Los Angeles, Aug. 19 (AP)—Only U. S. Olympic champion Wally Ris stands between the astounding Japanese swim team and a complete sweep of the National A.A.U. men's free style titles today.

Ris, who holds the American record of 57.6, will swim in the 100 meter event against Tokyo Swim Club's Yoshihiro Hamaguchi and Shigeyuki Maruyama.

The Iowa flash may have to do better than that to beat the Nips. For it seems that nothing less than the phenomenal will do against the invaders who seem bent on taking home all the world's records, as well as the American championships.

Hironoshin Furuhashi, Mr. Perpetual Motion, revote the record book again last night with 4:33.3 in winning the 400 meters, and anchoring the Tokyo club to victory in the 800-meter relay in 8:45.4.

Terrific Figures
These figures eclipsed Alex Juny's 4:35.2 in the 400, and the American Olympic team's 8:46 in the 800 relay at London last year. Furuhashi was faster than the fishes of Fujiyama in the final 200 meters of the relay, being timed unofficially in 2:07.4, which certainly would have won the individual 200 meters had he chosen to enter that event.

But he settled for the 1500 Wednesday, the 400 yesterday and the 800 free-style today. His goal, of course, will be Bill Smith's 3:50.9.

On the American side of the track, Joe Ventur and Allan Stack, not faced with Japanese competition, retained their respective breast stroke and backstroke crowns.

The Tokyo Swim Club, going into the final day with 49 points, is a shoo-in to take the team trophy home to MacArthurland, Brighton Swim Club, Atlantic City, N. J., is second with 25, New York is third with 23, and West Jordan, Utah, stopped Gene Pearce, 185, Magna, Utah, 3.

Fights Last Night

W.C.T.U. Reports Hourly Bill Big For Drinkers in US

Philadelphia, Aug. 19 (AP)—A temperance leader asserted today that Americans are spending $1,004,566 an hour for alcoholic drinks.

Violat T. Black, of Evanston, Ill., told the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at its 75th diamond anniversary convention she arrived at this estimate "by dividing the number of hours per year (8,760) into the $8,800,000,000 reported by the U. S. Department of Commerce to have been spent by consumers in this country last year for alcoholic beverages."

Miss Black is treasurer of the W.C.T.U. She said "this money, wasted for a product which is mankind's greatest enemy, would finance the building of 100 acutely needed homes, costing $10,000 each, every hour of the day or night."

"The total drink bill, however, cannot be estimated without adding the sum total to the spent for the beverages, to cover the cost of drink-caused crime, insanity, disease, broken homes, poverty and other human and economic waste."

Mrs. Olivia B. Davis, of Dallas, Texas, director of the W.C.T.U.'s Christian citizenship department, remarked that the abolition of the liquor traffic in America "would greatly advance Christianity in all foreign fields."

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, of New York, president of the W.C.T.U., remarked yesterday that "the men and women of the United States would welcome an opportunity to express through a national vote their views in support of Prohibition."

"Millions of dollars are being spent by Prohibition foes throughout the country to prevent local option elections wherein communities can make known their desires to return to a Prohibition status."

Mrs. Colvin at the same time charged "drinking by U. S. officials at Yalta and Potsdam conferences was greatly responsible for concessions made to the Soviets during the talks."

The W.C.T.U. head said U. S. representatives at the conferences wondered "how the Russians could consume such large quantities of vodka and keep sober, when it had such an intoxicating effect upon the Americans."

"But," she added, "we have learned since that Stalin and the Sovietists outwit the representatives of other nations by plying them with vodka while the Russians drink water from vodka bottles."

Scores Away Tourists.
Beirut, Lebanon (AP)—A mistake in advertising is believed to have cost Lebanon a poor touring season this summer. Lebanese have been puzzled by the absence of travelers from Egypt, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and other neighboring countries. The explanation came when pamphlets sent abroad to attract tourists were checked. The Touring Department found out that last year's prices—exceeding by more than 20 per cent the year's cost of living—were advertised by mistake. Hotel rooms were listed at $11.12 per day instead of $7.04. All other prices were inflated accordingly. This, it is estimated, was enough to scare thousands of would-be tourists away from Lebanon.

Labrador is the most easterly part of the American continent.

Wassmers Have Local Exhibit At Bluestone Shop

Woodstock, Aug. 19—Although prominent in the western part of the United States where they have been exhibiting for the past 35 years, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wassmer have opened their first two-man show in Woodstock which is currently to be seen at the Bluestone Antiques Shop located on the corner of the lower Byrdcliffe and Rock City roads.

Mr. Wassmer during World War 2, served for four years in the U. S. Army Air Corps. While in service he sustained an injury to his painting arm but is gradually getting the use of it again. While stationed in Texas he painted four large murals depicting the air force in action. He has had many one man shows in the west and is probably best known for his interpretations of the Teton country in Jackson Hole, Wyo. He has painted in most of the western states, Old Mexico, Canada, Cuba, Florida and Provincetown, Mass. His paintings hang in many public institutions and private collections throughout the United States, Hawaii and Mexico.

Judy Lund, as Mrs. Wassmer is known professionally, was former executive secretary of the Utah State Institute of Fine Arts. Utah state art director, a member of the Utah Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters, a member of the staff of the Permanent Exhibition of Decorative Arts and Crafts, Rockefeller Center and served on the New York City Municipal Art Committee for the selection of the first and second national exhibitions of American art.

The Wassmers are summer residents in the community and reside in New York during the winter months. They are both members of the Art Students League.

Twenty paintings are included in the Lund-Wassmer exhibition and are: Harlequin; Raposo; Murrin; Heliotrope; Reflections; Contemplation; Springtime; Day Lilies; Dancer Resting; Harriet; Plink; Ballet; Spring in Woodstock; Still Life; Dark Beauty; Cornelia; Dilettante; Nancy; Sculptor's Studio. It will be open to the public daily through Labor Day, September 5.

Musical Comedy
Playing Maverick
Woodstock, Aug. 19—The new musical comedy "What You Will" by Bill DeVeau and Bob Guest, based on Shakespeare's, "Twelfth Night" opened at the Maverick Summer Theatre, Wednesday night and will continue through Sunday, Aug. 21.

The entire cast which was the largest this season at the theatre worked hard to do justice to this premiere. Particularly notable, however, were the several solos sung by Bob Guest as Andrew and Delphina Brownlee as Viola, as well as the clever and amusing "Ladies in Waiting" as sung by Ronnie Sore, Mary Jane Fiverson and Judy Hollis, and "Hallucinations" by Dwight Carter and Bob Guest.

Tom Reddy was a handsome Orsino and June Glover a striking Olivia. Jacqueline Rignmont and William C. Wilson contributed much to the comedy of the evening.

Included in the chorus are two attractive young Woodstockers, Judy Small and Sally McCallhill. Judy Small is also responsible for the unusual costuming. The role of the Page was convincingly portrayed by the 12-year-old youngster, Gordon Brownlee, who also sang with the greatest assurance, "The Lament of the Page."

Tom Reddy and Dwight Carter designed the colorful settings. Bob Guest directed the production while composer Bill DeVeau was the accompanist.

Boy May Be in Trunk
New York, Aug. 19 (AP)—Somewhere, perhaps a long way from home, an eight-year-old boy who can't speak may be locked in the trunk of an automobile. The boy, Richard King, of (40-07 12th Street) Long Island City, Queens, New York who is mute, disappeared yesterday. Police sent out a 15-state alarm today saying the boy may have crawled into the trunk of an automobile, bearing Washington, D. C. license plates, without the driver's knowledge. The car was near the Willow Brook State School, Long Island City, yesterday about the same time the boy last was seen. The number of the license plate was not known. The child's father is Charles King. Further details were not immediately available.

Police Conference Will Ask Benefits

The 24th annual four-day convention of the Police Conference of the State of New York will be held in Troy beginning Monday, Aug. 22.

The Police Conference represents 40,000 policemen in 174 municipalities and villages throughout the state. President is Joseph Walsh of Troy and secretary is Peter Keresman of Kingston.

The New York city P.B.A. will present resolutions for a permanent $5,000 salary, a reduction in pension rates from their present high of 17.4 percent, a 5-day week, increased widows pension and protection from inclusion in the Social Security System which offers fewer benefits than do existing police pension systems.

Mayor William O'Dwyer has conferred with Mr. Carlton on several occasions to discuss pension reform and the budget director has been delegated to study the financial possibility of enacting a downward revision of rates. Policemen pay as high as 17.4 percent of their $3,800 base salary for retirement. Starting pay is $3,350 annually, with full pay after three years, a benefit which the P.B.A. won last year from Mayor O'Dwyer.

Widows of policemen receive a $600 yearly allowance. The P.B.A. is supporting a proposed referendum before the state legislature to increase this allowance. In addition, full pay is sought for widows of men killed in the line of police duty; at present, half-pay is provided.

The P.B.A. also seeks tax exemption on pensions to place police on a par with recipients of Social Security and railroad and printing pensions.

Typos Invoke Secrecy
On Inner Activities
Oakland, Calif., Aug. 19 (AP)—The International Typographical Union invoked strict secrecy today despite a demand for more information on expenditures by an I.T.U. holding company used as a strike weapon.

The company is Unitype, Inc. Organized two years ago, it has spent more than half a million dollars—all for union defense activities, officers reported. It has gone into business—including newspaper publishing—in strike or lockout areas.

Members said privately there is a two-fold purpose behind the unique venture: To provide jobs where labor disputes have idled union printers, or to compete with employers who won't sign on I.T.U. terms.

Ford S. Goetz, Ventura, Calif., delegate, led the unsuccessful fight yesterday to obtain a detailed accounting of I.T.U. loans which have financed Unitype. He urged action also "to protect" funds of the Union Printers Realty Corporation and Union Printers Home Corporation.

Fifteen Southern California locals, he said, instructed him to submit the legislation.
The voting, however, went heavily against Goetz. The majority said opening up the union books would disclose the "vital inner business of our defensive structure" to "those who seek to destroy us."

35 Escape Drowning
Stephenville, Nfld., Aug. 19 (AP)—Thirty-five American servicemen escaped drowning last night when their transport plane plunged into St. George's Bay, near the U. S. base at Harmon Field on the west coast of Newfoundland. The plane was en route from the Azores to Westover Field, Mass. It was to refuel at Harmon Field. The plane ditched in the bay and the men scrambled into dinghies and onto rafts and reached shore. No one was reported missing.
